

This architectural floor plan depicts a building with a complex layout. The plan includes several rooms of varying sizes, a central staircase, and a series of corridors. The rooms are defined by black outlines, and the staircase is highlighted with green lines. The building's footprint is irregular, with a large central area and several smaller rooms and corridors branching off. The overall design suggests a multi-story structure with a central vertical circulation core.

[illegible]